WHO'S WHO

Jeremy Woloski (Sidney Bruhl) has been acting and directing in the area for the past 28 years. Past favorite roles include Lenny in "Of Mice and Men", Bafee' in "Putnam County Spelling Bee" and Tito/Bippo in "A Comedy of Tenors". Regional directing credits include "Leading Ladies", "Clue" "Young Frankenstein", "Night of the Living Dead", "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" and "Evil Dead the Musical". During the day he teaches theater and is the current department head for the performing arts at Burncoat Middle School for the Arts in Worcester Ma. He would like to thank the cast and production team for making the rehearsal process a murderously good time! He lives in Holland Massachusetts with his loving wife Rebecca and two children, Ella and James. A special thank you to his family for always being supportive and understanding during each production!! Enjoy the show.

Joan Stewart (Myra Bruhl) is thrilled to death to return to Calliope as Myra Bruhl! She has appeared in a variety of local shows, including "Gilligans Island: The Musical," "The Vagina Monologues," "Cemetery Club," and "Sylvia," to name a few. She thanks her wonderful and talented cast and crew for their support in making this experience such a joy, and to her husband Bill, the best line and defense coach. Hold on tight and enjoy the show!

Max Cantor (Clifford Anderson) is looking forward to making his acting debut here at Calliope Productions. When not performing he studies acting at the Hanover Theatre & Conservatory and takes care of his two children as a stay-at-home-dad. Max enjoys spending time with his family and watching classic films.

Marren Sanders (Helga ten Dorp) is excited to join the Calliope family. She was most recently seen as Ruth in Theater III's production of "Calendar Girls". Other roles include Libby Ruth in "Always a Bridesmaid", Clairee Belcher in "Steel Magnolias", Katisha in "The Mikado", Reggie Fluty in "The Laramie Project", and Juror #10 (the angry racist) in "Twelve Angry Jurors". In her spare time Marren can be found working in higher education and taking care of her werewolves. She predicts there will be much applause for Deathtrap (especially when moon is full).

Michael Hayes (Porter Milgrim) is happy to be back on stage after a 16 year absence. His last role was Juror Four in Twelve Angry Men, produced by Enter, Stage Left in Hopkinton. His relationship with Calliope goes back to the late 1980s when he took the role of Amos the guard in the Calliope production of "The Runner Stumbles". For several years after, Michael was a regular in many of the British comedies produced on the Calliope stage. In addition to Calliope Productions, Michael has appeared on stage in several towns in the eastern Massachusetts area. When not on stage Michael teaches Civics for the Hopkinton Public School system to over 100 enthusiastic eighth graders who obviously just can't get enough civics.

Linda Oroszko (Director) is delighted to be working at Calliope where she has been acting or directing off and on for the past four decades. A veteran performer, she has been a lead singer in a band; appeared in films; and portrayed characters in over seventy plays throughout New England. More accustomed to musicals than murder, Linda put aside her peacenik leanings to bring the audience the thrills and chills implied by the title "Deathtrap". In the spirit of Halloween we offer you this "who-dunnit, why-dunnit, how-dunnit" comedy thriller. Enjoy!
